We have some great new articles about things you need to know...

PF2

We've all heard of PF2, but what was wrong with PF1, what is PF2, when is it coming and what will it mean? Click here to read more

Approved documents

There will be lots of changes to the approved documents this year - but what are they and when will they happen? Click here to read more

Community infrastructure levy

There's been a lot in the news recently about the community infrastructure levy. Read our article to find out what it is and what the funds can be used for. Click here to read more

Collaborative practices

People say BIM is as much to do with collaborative practices as it is software. But they are a bit vague about what collaborative practices are. Click here to read more
