02 · INITIAL RECORD

What's there?

A public library proposal combining self-service book storage, information systems and a site plan. Photographs, plans, sections and a network diagram document the building and its operation.

What attracts attention?

The emphasis on self-service and information retrieval. Architectural drawings are combined with a diagram of communications, linking physical space, circulation and information.

Recollection · 1972

To be recorded, if recalled.

03 · INVESTIGATION

Questions to investigate

1. How does the information network relate to the building's physical organisation?
2. Does the proposal treat the library as a changing service system rather than a static building?

Further examination

Identify the relationships between the network diagram, plans, sections and stated operating requirements.
