Competition

Our £500 CIOB competition is a great opportunity to get a competition win on your CV and raise your profile at the same time. Here are three top tips for how to win:

- Write facts not opinions. You shouldn't need to write 'I' or 'we'.
- Think encyclopaedia not magazine. Would your article work on Wikipedia?
- Sanity check. Get someone else to check your article.

Two great new articles by The College of Estate Management:

- What are the differences between NRM2 and SMM7? A section by section comparison. Read more ...
- What are the key issues that influence the selection of structural systems in office design? Read more ...

And a couple of other fascinating new articles:

- Can spiders be used to stop the spread of woodworm? A recent trial suggests there may be scope for using spiders rather than sprays to control woodworm populations. The introduction of a few spiders can break the woodworm cycle by catching the beetles before they lay eggs. Read more ...
- Live event production. A comprehensive description of this rapidly changing discipline. It's construction, but not as we know it. Read more ...
